SATURDAY EVENING, JAN. 14 1905.

In the letters of William Cowper, the poet, is an interesting description of me old fashioned political campaign tactics in England: "We were sitting yesterday after dinner, the two ladies and myself, very composedly and without the least apprehension of any such intrusion in our snug parlor, one lady knitting, the other netting and the gentlemen winding worsted, when to our unspeakable surprise a mob appeared before the window, a smart rap was heard at the door, the boys hallooed and the maid announced Mr. Grenville. Puss-one of the teme hares -was unfortunately let out of her box was unfortunately with all his good friends at his heels, was refused admittance at the grand entry and resible way of approach. In a minute the yard, the kitchen and the parlor were filled. Mr. Grenville, advancing toward me, shook me by the hand with a degree of cordiality that was extremely seducing. When the conference ended, Mr. Grenville squeezed my hand again, kissed the ladies and withdrew. He kissed likewise the maid in the kitchen and seemed upon the whole a most loving, kissing, kind hearted gentleman.

er's store to the proprietor, "seems to be an inquisitive sort of fellow. When business is slack he noses about, looking at everything on the shelves, ex amining tags and peeping into boxes that are not strictly in his department. I think I'll speak to him."

"You will please do nothing of the sort," answered the proprietor. "Clerks who "nose" about, as you express it, instead of posing by the door, are the young men who know exactly what goods we have in stock and where to find them. They do not keep a customer waiting while they run to you or me and risk losing a sale. There is nothing about my stock that I don't want my clerks to know. I would rather they find out for themselves than go running to you for information."— New York Press.

Admiral Wilson of the British navy won his Victoria cross at the battle of El Teb in 1884. There was a gap in the square, and five or six of the enemy made a victous rush forward, attempt ing to get inside. Captain Wilson, who was present with the naval brigade, advanced to meet them alone, but his sword broke in the endeavor to cut one of the intruders down. Hereupon the officer, instead of beating a hasty re freat, stood his ground and began bowling over the enemy with his fists. Either from the nature of the ground or, as the record puts it, "the surpris-ing nature of his attack," Captain Wilson escaped with a few wounds and was rescued by the square closing up round him. Sir Redvers Buller described the act as the most courageous he ever witnessed.

The Human Neptune.

It is doubtful if there ever was a sturdier human Neptune than Captain Webb, whose memorable exploit in crossing the English channel will afways be remembered. It was mere ill luck-a fatal chance-which tossed him against a rock in the Whiripool rapids of the Ningara river and ended his life. Lord Byron was a marvel in the water. He equaled the feat of Leander in propelling himself across the Hellespont without ald or relief from any quarter, and before him beamed no beckoning signals, glances and smiles from an incomparably beautiful Hero. But even Byron never swam across the English channel. As the champion of the silver streak of Wire Fire Extinguishers.

In factories where inflammable ma terials are made small fires are very apt to break out, and unless their prog ress is at once stopped the results may be serious. In varnish factories the fire extinguisher consists of a mesh of very fine wires. Should a jar of varnish become ignited, a workman seizes the net, which is always kept ready at hand, and peps it over the vessel containing the burning liquid. The wires conduct off the heat so quickly that the flames have no time to spread and soon die out.

Brutally Tortured.

Brutally Tortured.

A case came to light that for persistent and unmerciful torture has perhaps never been equaled. Joe Golobick, of Colusa, Calif, writes: "For 15 years I endured insufferable pain from Rheumatism and nothing relieved me though I tried everything known. I came across Electric Bitters and it's the greatest medicine on earth for that trouble. A few bottles of it completely cured me." Just as good for Liver and Kidney troubles and general debility. Only 50e. Satisfaction guaranteed by E. S. Leadbeater & Sons, druggists.

No More Stomach Troubles.

All stomach trouble is removed by the u of Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. It gives the sto ach perfect rest by digesting what you e without the stomach's aid. The food buil without the stomach's aid. The food builds up the body, the rest restores the stomach to health. You don't have to diet yourself when taking Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. J. D. Erskine, of Allenville, Mich., says, "I suffered Heartburn and Stomach trouble for some time. My sister-in-law has had the same trouble and was not able to eat for six weeks. She lived entirely on warm water. After taking two bottles of Kodol Dyspepsia Cure ahe was entirely cured. She now eats heartily and is in good health. I am glad to say Kodol gave me instant relief." Sold by all druggists.
